

Residential project (extension & remodelling), Witney 2016

“The redevelopment of our house was a significant exercise which was daunting at times, particularly as we had never attempted anything like it before. From our first meeting with Kevin it was clear that we had found the right firm of architects to design our home and help guide us through the process.

The initial design incorporated all the key aspects of our brief yet contained many flourishes and clever solutions to practical issues that have made it something special. Neither Kevin nor James were precious about their ideas and were very collaborative in their approach. This helped build a strong working relationship with us and our contractor and was key to making our build a success.

It was reassuring to know that we could rely on Kevin and James’ expertise throughout the process. Their guidance (and patience!) was invaluable. The end result is a house that is stunning to look at and practical to live in.

Whether or not I would ever do it all again I do not know. But if I did I would involve Kevin and James again without hesitation.”
